HOPE ALONE NOT ENOUGH TO HELP HARRIERS TO WINS

Hoping to run their way to a successful season, the cross country team started its first autumn meet with only three returning lettermen—Dave Spanski, Carl Essex, and Larry Rounds.

The team, scheduled for six meets, was coached by Larry Rowe, who had hopes for the boys even though their previous record was 0—5.

With a determined spirit they opened their season against Elyria, Sept. 9, and went on to meets with North Olmsted, Elyria Catholic, Brookside, and Amherst.

In their hardest fought meet, the harriers lost to Brookside, 31—24. Handicapped with a deficit of runners, the cross country unit ended its regular season Oct. 22 with a 24—36 setback at the hands of the visiting Brookside harriers.

The Middie long distance runners went winless for the year.

SOFTBALL TEAM MISSES CHAMPIONSHIP BY GAME

The well-balanced Lorain County Girls Softball League for area high schools repeated its traditional, annual, nail-biting finish.

Three schools—Midview, Avon, and Brookside—completed the regular season in a three-way tie, forcing the teams into a post season playoff.

The Middle fly chasers drew Brookside in the opening round and lost to the eventual champions, 6—0, and finished in a second-place tie with Avon.

The Middle hopes for a clear shot at the league title were spoiled during the regular season by a 14—13 loss to Avon, the only blemish on the Midview record. The Middies defeated Brookside during the campaign, 5—2.

Other Midview victories came over Keystone, 4—1; Amherst, 31—6; Clearview, 12—0; Firelands, 11—5; and Columbia, 18—2.

Incidents off the field sometimes are as memorable as those on the field. This year was no exception.

The players will recall Coach Fran Romino's inept promise preceding the Amherst encounter to buy refreshments "if you girls score 30 runs."

They did, and she must have had quite a bill. Every girl on the team took part in the victory.

OCTOBER, NOVEMBER, DECEMBER . . .

GRID YEAR PRODUCES FORFEITS

Early season predictions for the Middie "Head-Hunters" were encouraging, but inexperience and injuries reduced the team's effectiveness, turning the season record into one of disappointment.

Despite the depressing effects of a losing season, the team morale remained high as did the hopes of the spectators. Attendance exceeded the preceding year's turnout and never reached a discouraging low.

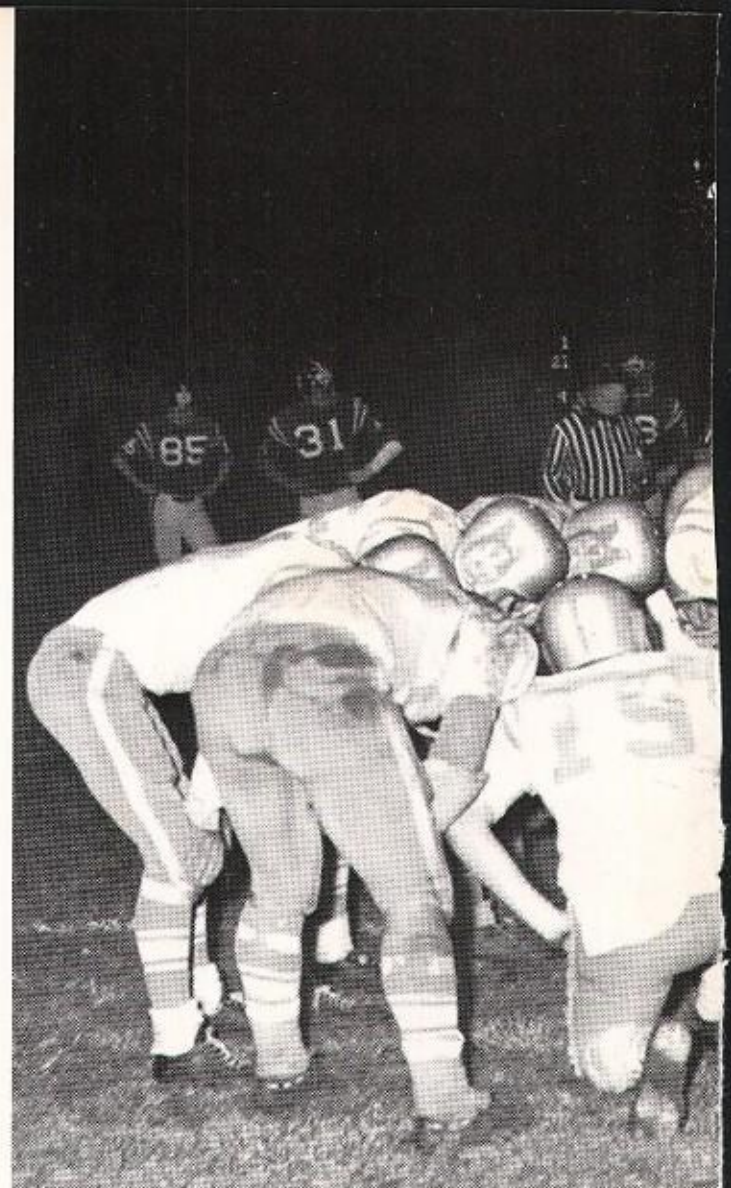

Guiding the gridiron efforts were Head Coach Bob Fisher, Line Coach Ed Adelsburg, and Backfield Coach Tom West.

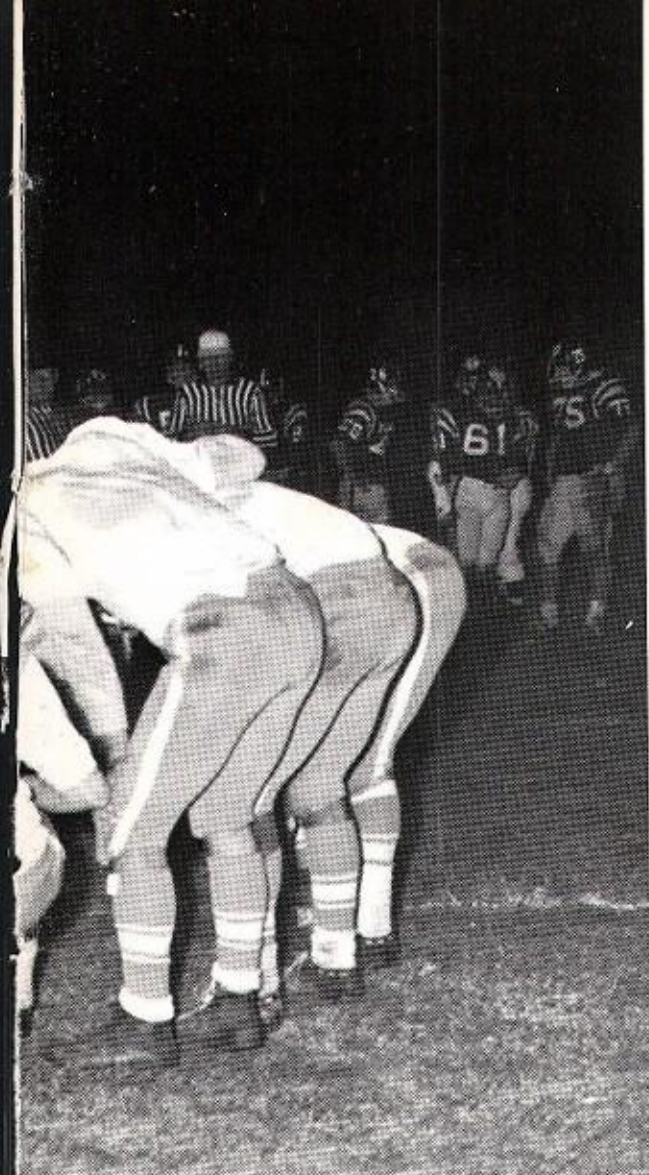

Outstanding back and lineman awards were presented to Albert Stacey and Tom Walsh, respectively. Stacey became the first player in Midview history to gain four varsity letters in football.

Senior lettermen Larry Yost, Jim Wiley, Luther Davis, Don Gustovich, Al Stacey, John Weslow, Bob Paris, Bill Krause, John Madlem, Tom Walsh, Phil Strouse, Tim Benko, Joe Sklenar, and John Sklenar played their last high school football Nov. 4 against Oberlin, closing out the season with one victory, seven losses, and one "no contest" because of a double forfeit involving Ridgeville.

GEORGIA GRILLS REIGNS AS '65 HOMECOMING QUEEN

As the football team retired to the locker room at half-time between the Midview-Clearview game, five Homecoming Queen candidates and their four attendants were escorted onto the field.

The crowd, along with the nine representatives, were eagerly awaiting the announcement of who would receive the honor of reigning as the 1965 Homecoming Queen.

The girls were previously introduced at a combination Homecoming assembly and pep rally held the Friday before the perennial event.

Unaware of the final decision of candidates, the representatives, as well as the student body, entered the assembly and anxiously listened for the names to be called and for the girls to ascend the stage steps.

Dave Tharp, Student Council president, slowly announced that the competing queen candidates were Dicie Bruhn, Karen Robson, Georgia Grills, Maureen Ross, and Judy McDonough. These girls were to be attended by Freshman Denise Davis, Sophomore Kathy Dachner, and Juniors Nancy Stann and Barbara Hawke.

Even though Midview had played a good defensive game, the half-time score was frozen at 20-0 in Clearview's favor. The crowd stilled and everyone seemed to be concentrating on the press box announcer's voice, except co-captains Albert Stacy and Bill Krause, who were worried about last minute ceremony details. The name was announced, and the football captains advanced toward the girls ready to robe and crown the new queen.

Georgia Grills tearfully accepted the queen's attire, and took her place with the court on the field bleachers to watch the remaining half of the game.

Undaunted by the game's final score of 20-12, the smallest queen ever chosen by Midview students reigned over one of the biggest events of the school year, the Homecoming dance.

Dampened spirits turned triumphant later in the year as Clearview had to forfeit the game making it Midview's first Homecoming win in three years.

DRAMA SEASON OPENS

WITH 'THE MALE ANIMAL'

With a cast of 13, the dramatics department opened its season with James Thurber's "The Male Animal" Nov. 19 at 8:13 p.m.

The comedy is about Tommy Turner, an English professor at Midwestern University, and his wife Ellen. Trouble begins when Joe Ferguson, a former Midwestern football hero and Ellen's old boyfriend, returns for a visit.

As if this isn't problem enough for the Turners, an intellectual student, Michael Baines, writes a very controversial article as a result of a lecture delivered by Professor Turner. The results are far-reaching and comical.

Portraying the leading roles in the play, directed by Miss Beverley Glemser, were seniors Darryl Johnson as Tommy Turner, Pat Hess as Ellen Turner, and Harvey Johns as Joe Ferguson. Also in a lead role was freshman Debbie Blackburn, Ellen's sister.

Other students participating in the play were Brenda Burns, Larry Herwig, Charles Wuensch, Paul Shriver, Becky Beal, Mike Kekic, Shelle Riedel, Ed Rodgers, and Steve Hronec. Student director for the production was Linda Wesemeyer.

BOWLERS ROLL OVER PINS FOR 222'S BUT ALSO 29'S

Rolling out of the high school and into the Grafton Bowling Lanes every Tuesday afternoon, 60 members of the intramural kegling league bowled their way to astonishing feats.

The team captained by Tom Kilpatrick pinned the loop championship down by taking a three-game roll-off from the second half champs, captained by Georgia Gill.

Senior Bob Young grabbed honors for the highest game and series totals for boys with 222 and 564. For the girls, Connie Snyder pulled in the title for both departments with 203 and 528 totals. Chuck Meldrum's team rolled the best game and series totals for a team with 820 and 2233.

Laura Huber, sophomore, had the dubious distinction of bowling the lowest single game total, 29.

SCHOOL SPIRIT SOARS IN DRIVE FOR SIX TONS OF CLOTHING

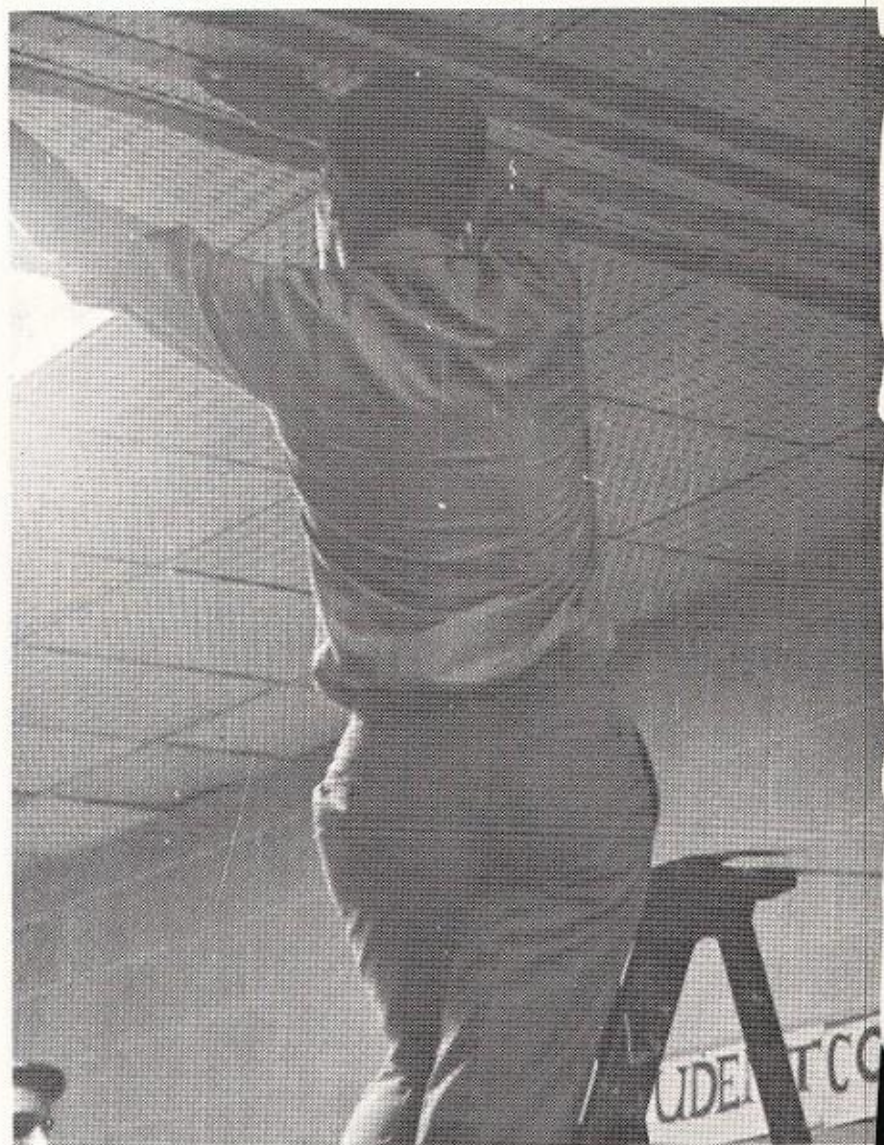

Generously answering an open appeal to support the Save the Children's Federation, Midview students contributed 12,090 pounds of clothing during a Student Council sponsored clothes drive in November.

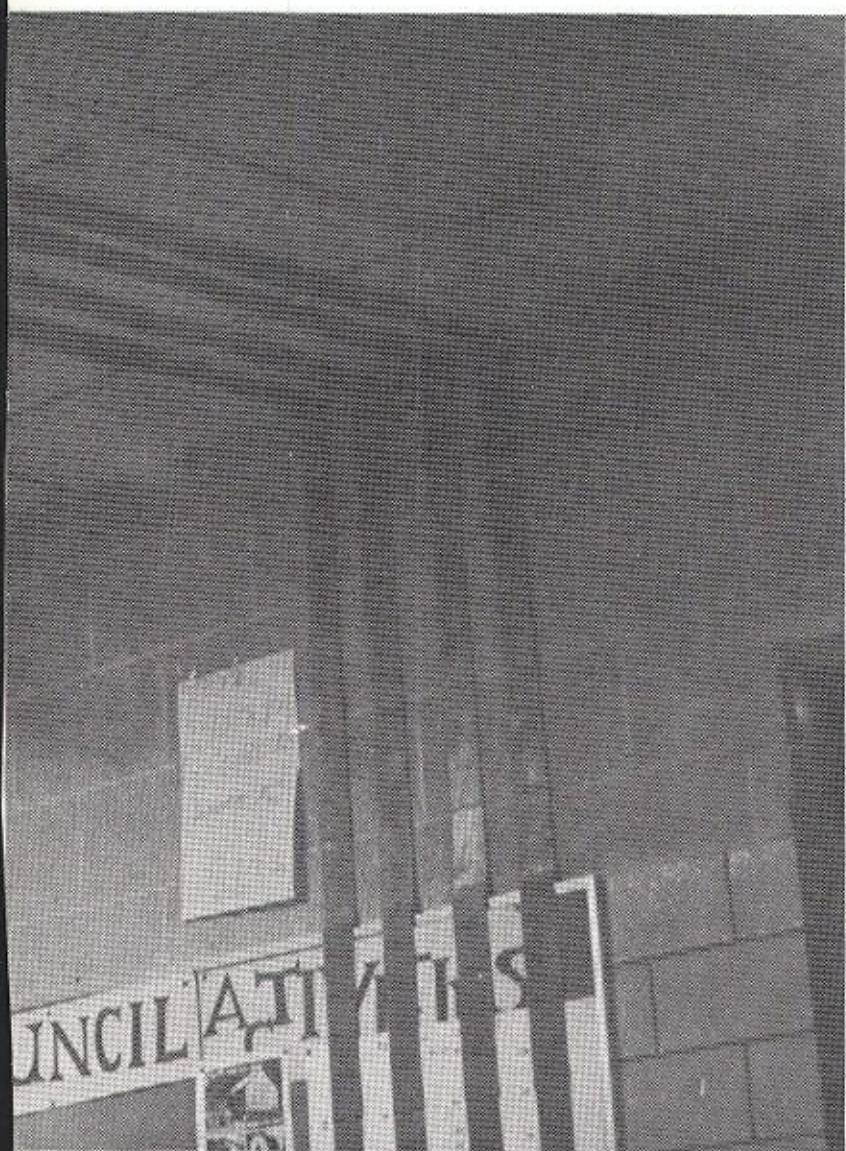

Six tons of clothes, the overwhelming response from residents as well as staff and students, were sent to the Appalachia region. The heart of the area, which spans nine states, is located in the mountainous region of eastern Kentucky; one third of the area's four million inhabitants earn less than $3,000 a year.

Faculty members and staff helped to generate excitement and enthusiasm by presenting a skit to launch the appeal. The inter-class competition totals were measured by thermometers, which eventually extended up a corridor wall and across the ceiling.

The freshman and senior classes stayed in close conflict during the week-long contest, but the seniors proved to be the superior collectors with 3,663 pounds of clothing and were rewarded with free admissions to a Student Council dance.

Midview was awarded a Certificate of Appreciation by the Save the Children Federation for the hard work of the students.

VICTORY ELUDES FACULTY IN ANNUAL 'FUN' SERIES

After a short, grinding, grueling season the Midview High faculty basketball "wonders" produced another losing year with an 0-1 record.

Renewing the annual series with Midview Junior High's hardwood "crawlers" was a useless effort for the "wonders" as they lost, 40-34, Dec. 4. The margin, however, was much closer than the year before.

Authorities believe that the high school quintet is just a year or two away from a possible victory.

Scoring honors for the losing high school cause went to Ed Adelsberg, who is also known for his bowling prowess, and Wendell Hayes. Each player ripped the nets for six points.

"Pickle" Bickle and "Goofy" Gainer sparked the winners with 10 markers each.

The volleyball "batters" from the high school (or the team considered to be from the high school) shored up a much better evening, winning two of three matches to become "mythical" champs of the yearly battle of teachers.

Joy and disappointment accompanied the 1965-66 Midview basketball season. Predicted losses became wins, and predicted wins became losses.

The varsity ended the year with a 7-10 record and a fourway tie for third place in the Lakeland Conference.

The season saw Ed Adelsberg replace Henry Smith, who had guided the Middies for five years, as new head coach.

The team "will be inexperienced and not too fast," said Adelsberg as he started the year with only two returning lettermen, Al Stacey and Bob Paris.

Stacey, the year's most valuable player, along with Rich Hawke, Don Gustovich, Luther Davis, and Bob Paris, were senior lettermen lost by graduation.

"We will miss the five seniors, but I think we have a good chance of having a winning season next year with the juniors that are coming back," said Adelsberg.

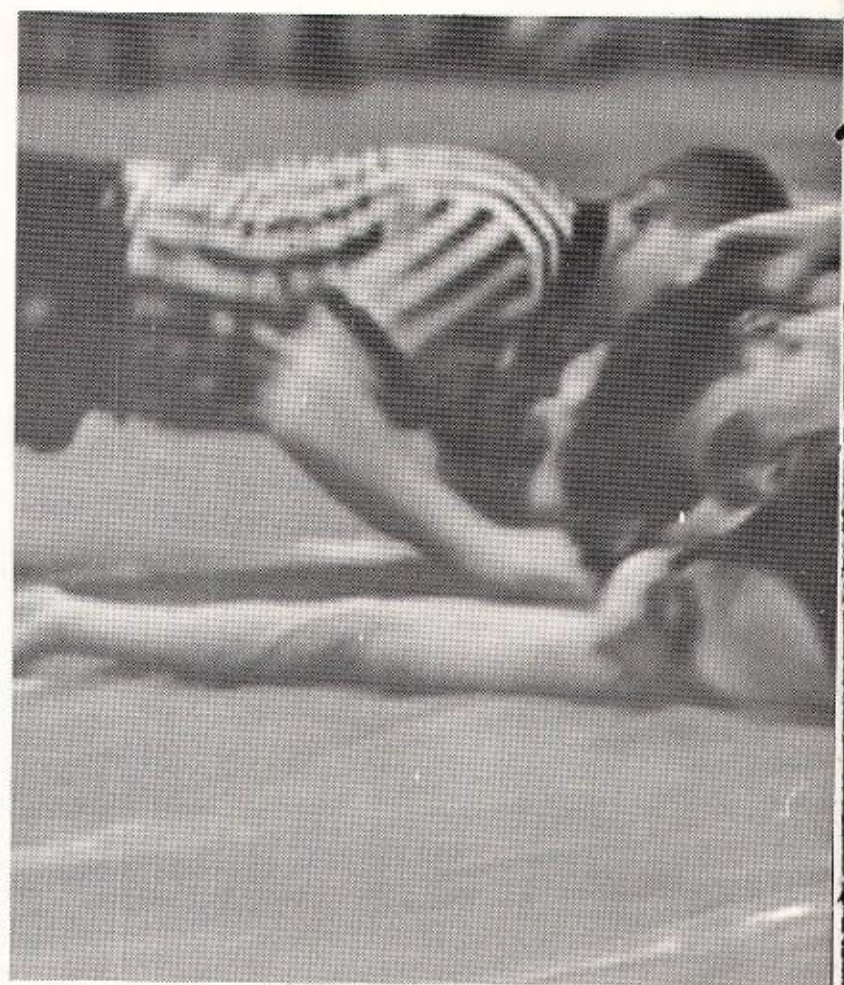

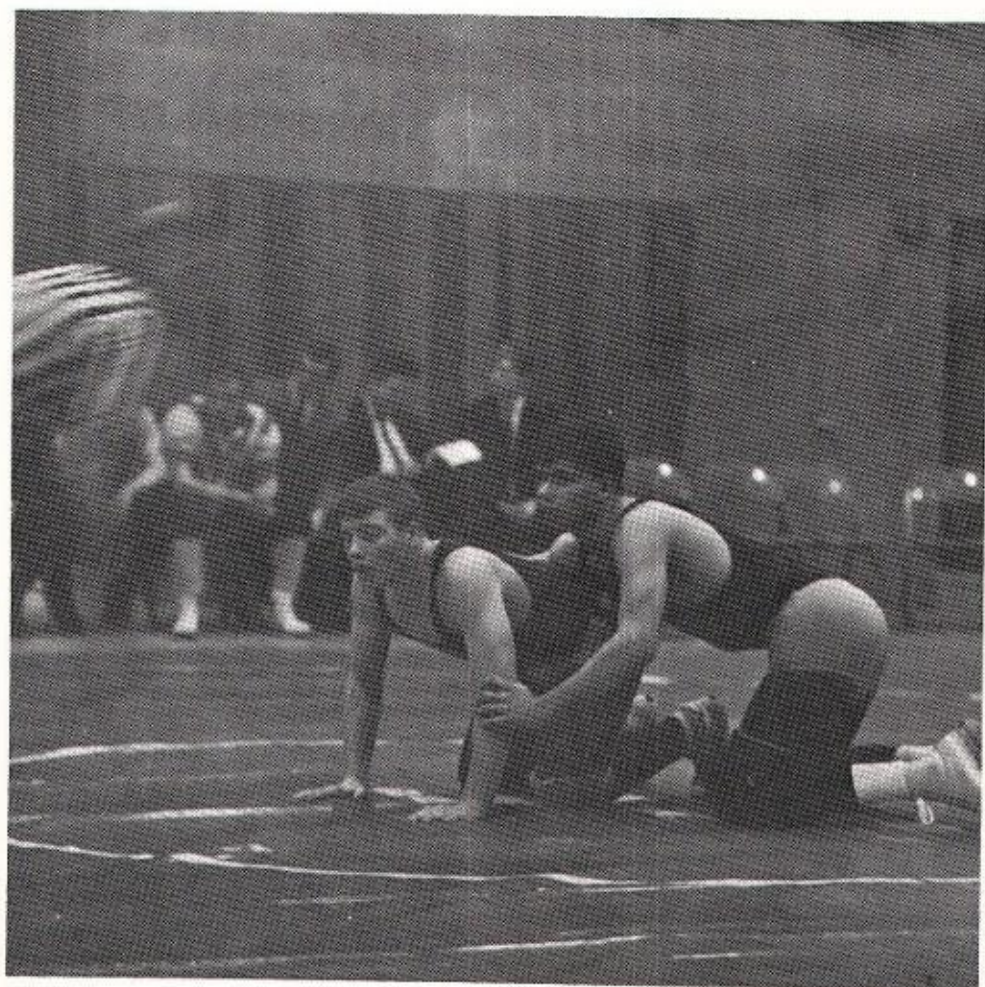

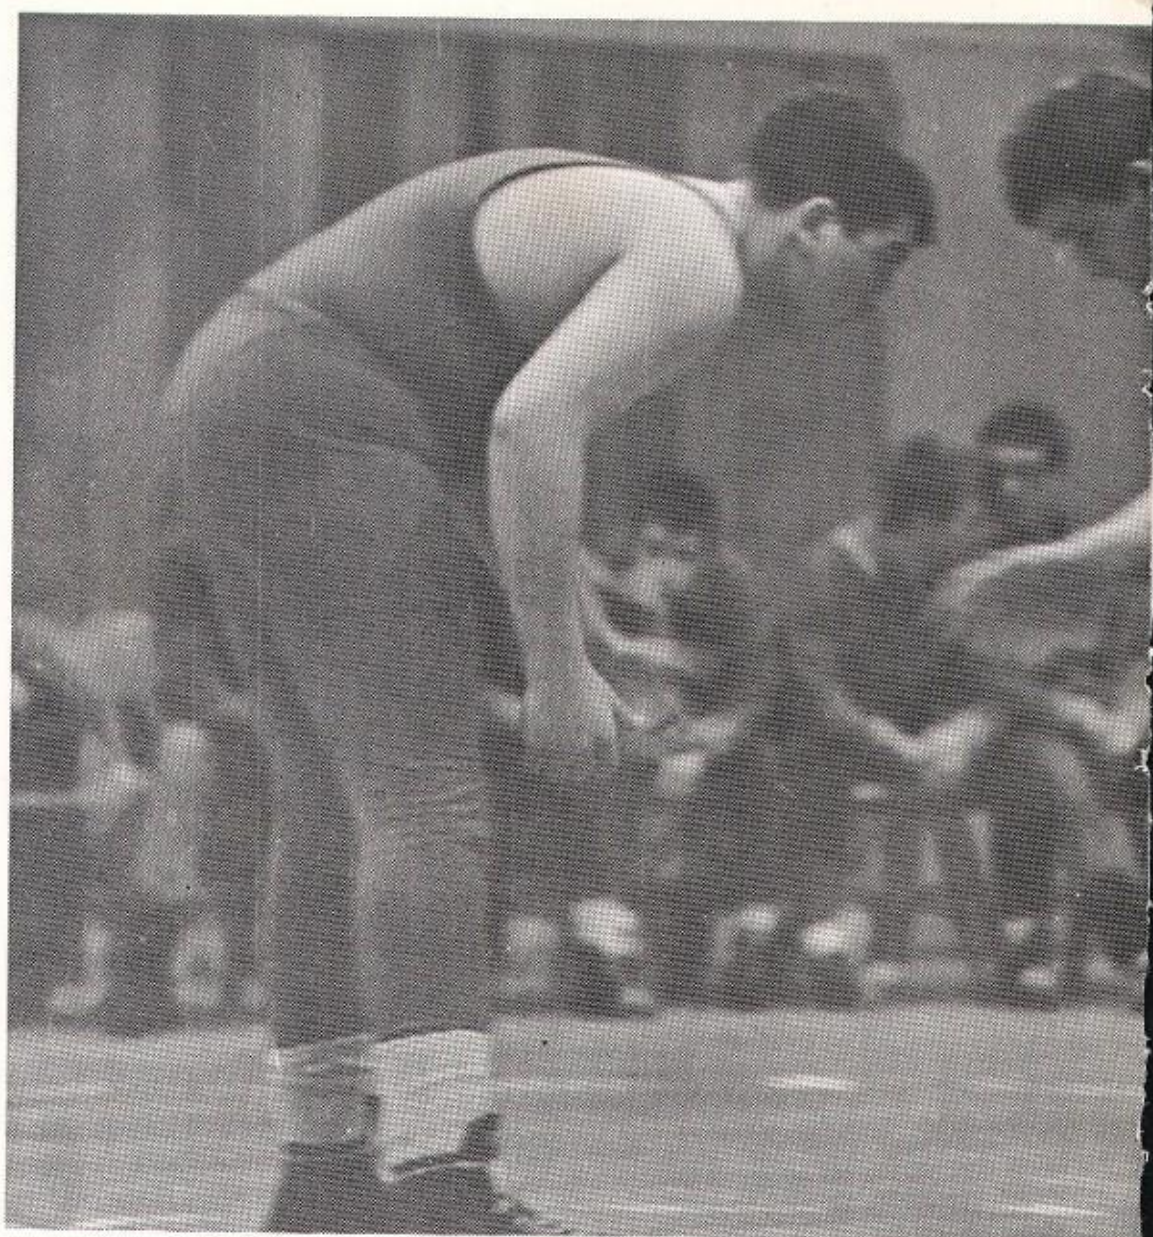

Bright outlooks will be enhanced by the addition of players from a junior varsity team which posted a 14-2 slate and captured the mythical Lakeland Conference crown for reserves.

HOUSTON, MADLEM LEAD INDIVIDUAL MAT EFFORTS

A combination of strength, ability, and tactics are qualifications necessary for a winning wrestling season, and although team wins in the victory column were low, several boys continually excelled in their weight classes proving that individual potential was high.

Returning veterans opening the year were John Berkebille, Randy Houston, John Madlem, Mike Kekic, Chuck Early, and Tony Smith.

New mats and novice grapplers proved to be a winning composite as the matmen captured four firsts and took third place honors in the Middle-hosted Lakeland Conference Wrestling Tournament Feb. 12.

Randy Houston and John Madlem advanced to district competition after competing in the Sectional Wrestling Tournament where both boys were seeded and drew first round byes.

Houston, Midview's lightest grappler, finished third in the sectional, winning three of six bouts; Madlem came in fourth. They qualified for the district by being among the top four finishers in their divisions.

Midview's last two wrestling hopes were eliminated from district competition March 4; the team's season record was three wins, seven losses.

MIDDIE THINCLADS HAVE GOOD YEAR, GOOD FUTURE

Midview's track team completed its most successful season in 1966 in the history of the school. Many individual school records were set, climaxed by John Weslow's record-breaking shotput mark of 49' 8" in the district meet May 14. The toss was good for fifth place in the district.

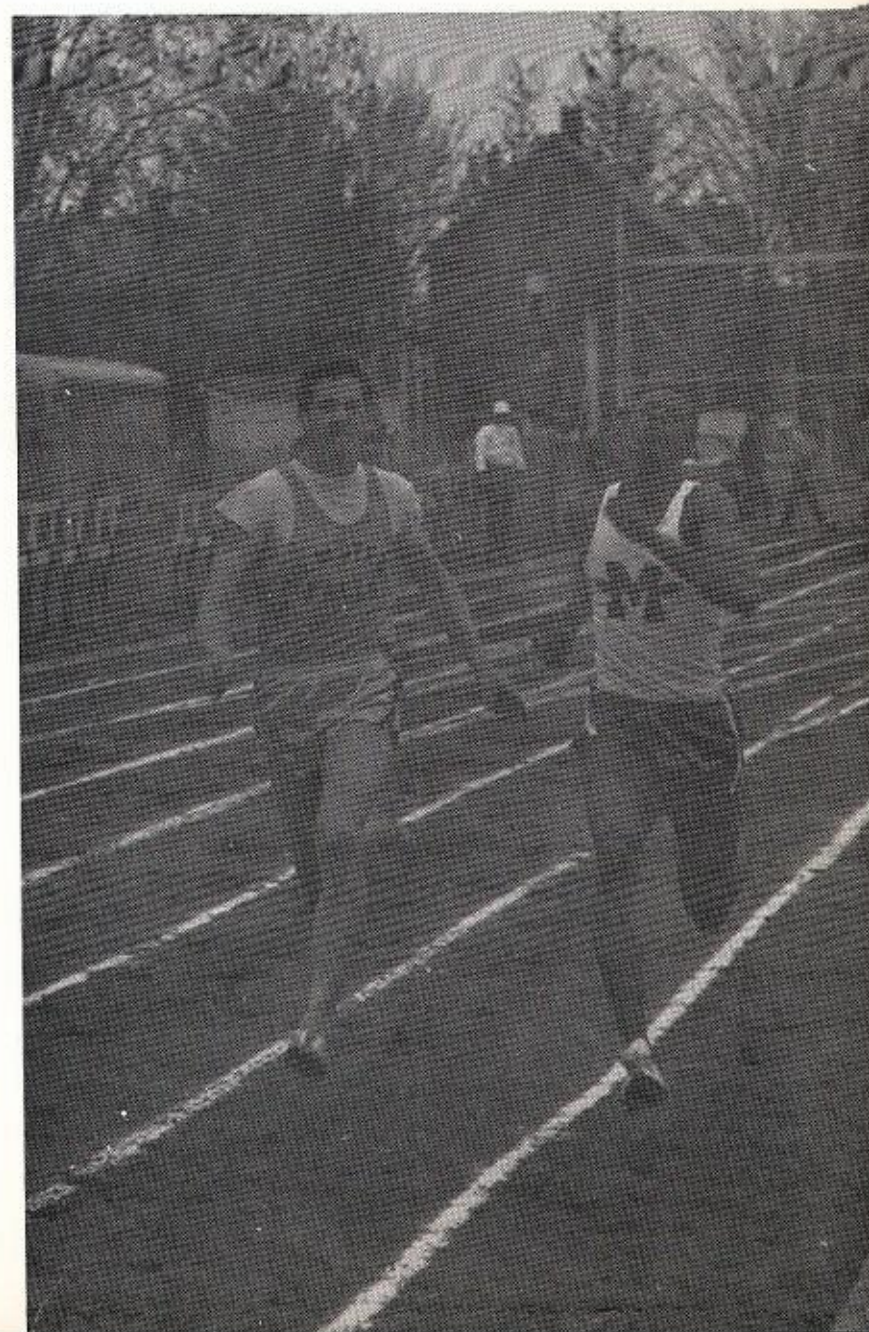

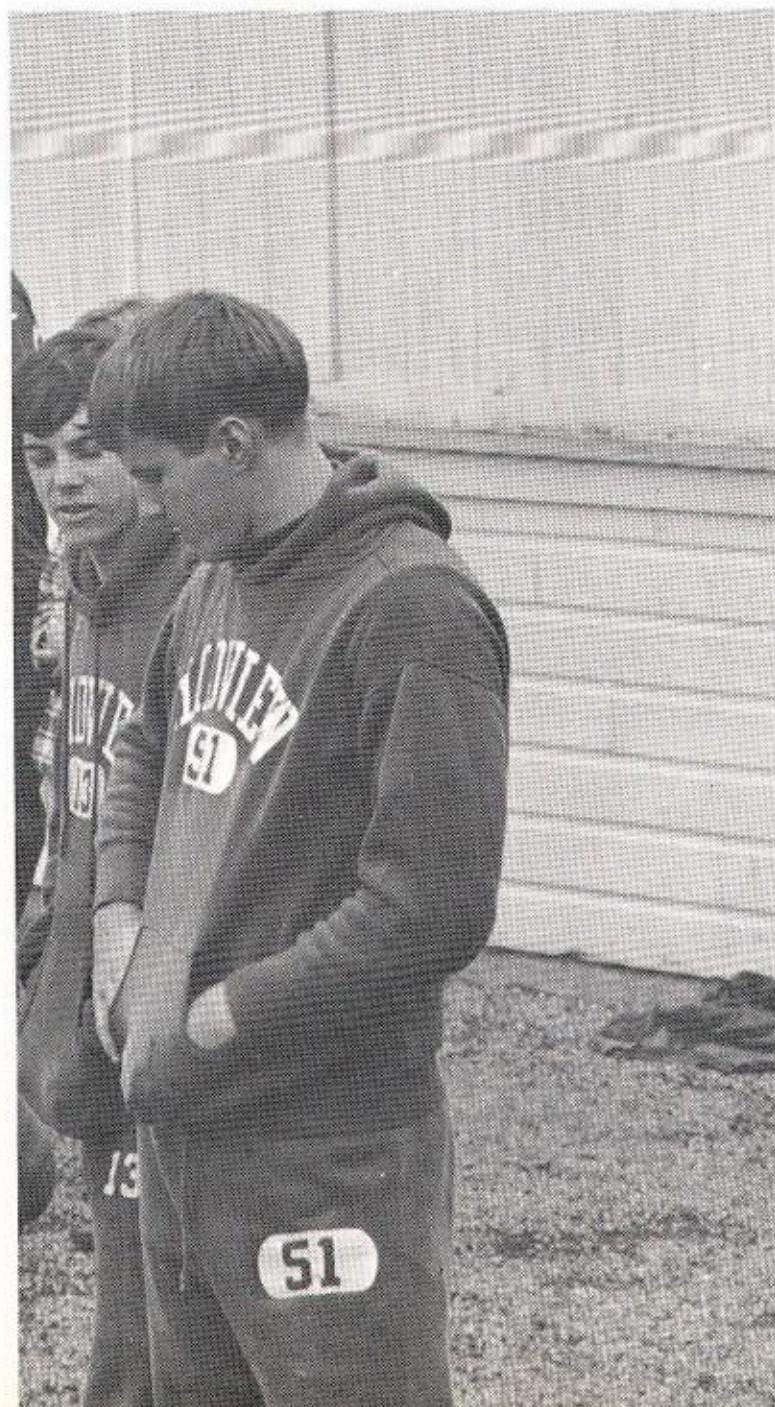

The season brought three firsts, four seconds, and one third in scheduled meets. The cindermen placed third in the Lakeland Conference, seventh in the Comet Relays, and tenth in the district.

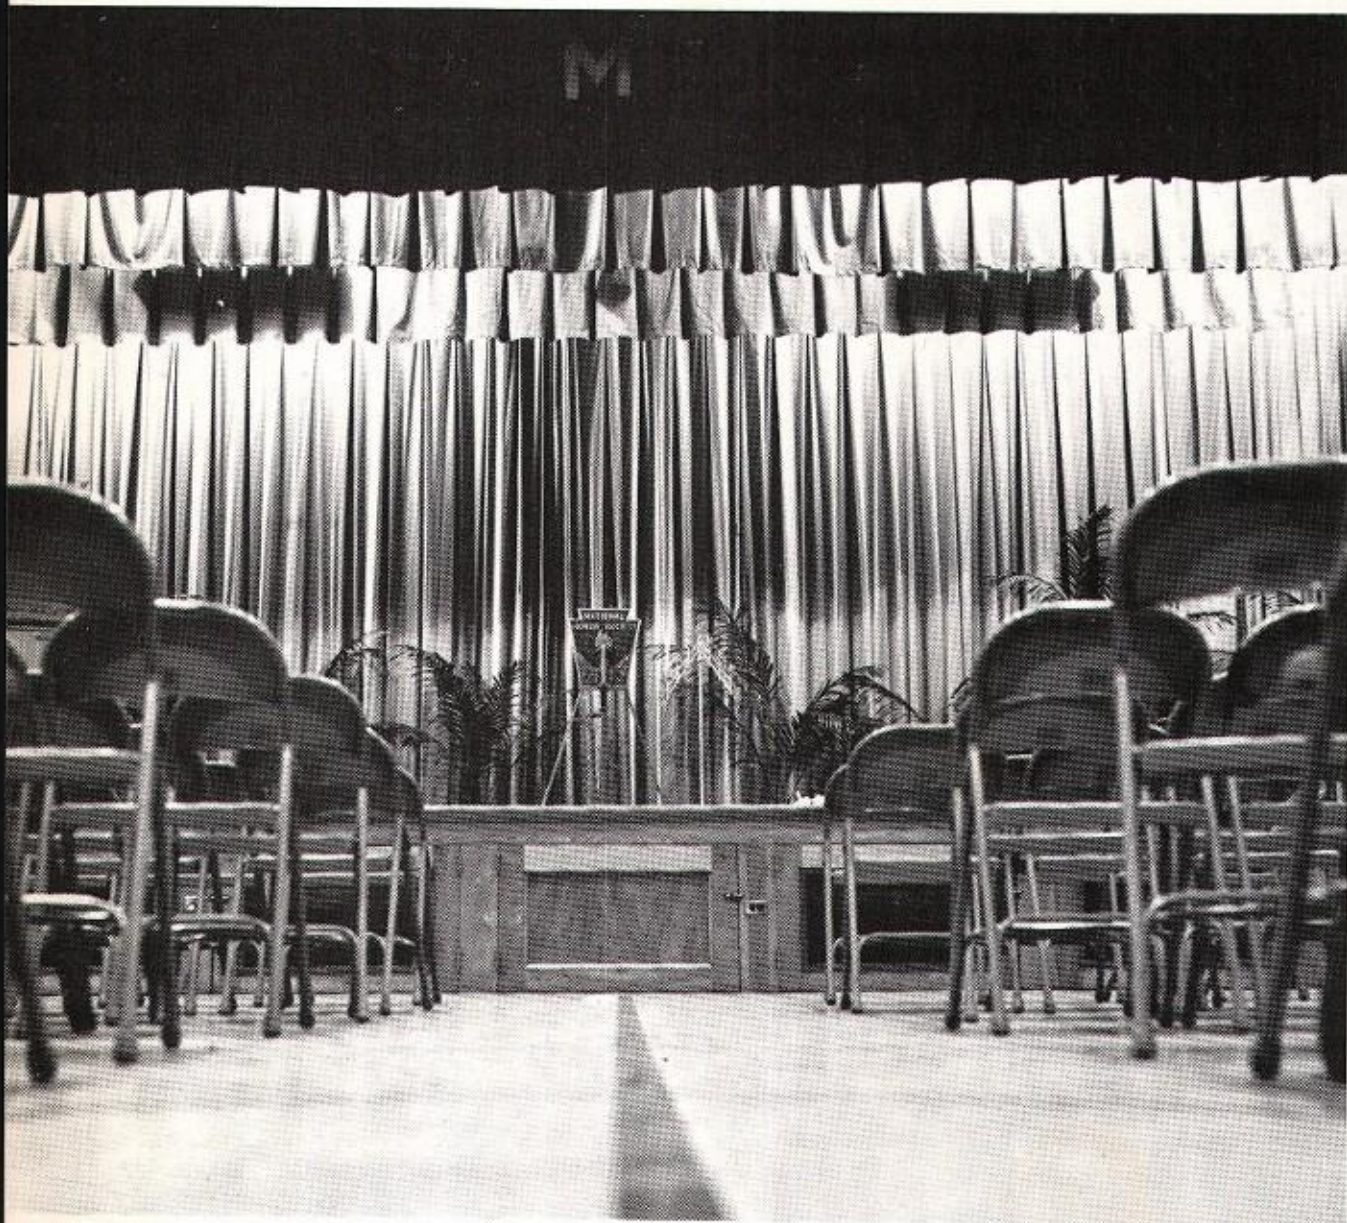

The future holds the promise of continued success for the thinclads. Only five seniors graduate. They are Bill Cromling, Jack Siniard, Dave Spanski, Phil Strouse, and John Weslow.

At the Elyria Catholic Preview Meet, the Middie team placed third. The freshman trackmen rolled to an easy county championship.

HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTS 16 AT STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Sixteen new members were inducted into the National Honor Society by five hold-over members April 5 before an all-school assembly. Seniors inducted were David Bosley, Mary Gest, Karen Henning, Steve Hronec, Jayne Kidney, Linda Lumadue, Sandra Peake, Maureen Ross, Laurie Warren, and Linda Wesemeyer. Juniors John Berkebille, Sharon Borchert, Alan Elder, Kathy Howard, and Marilyn Johns were also initiated.

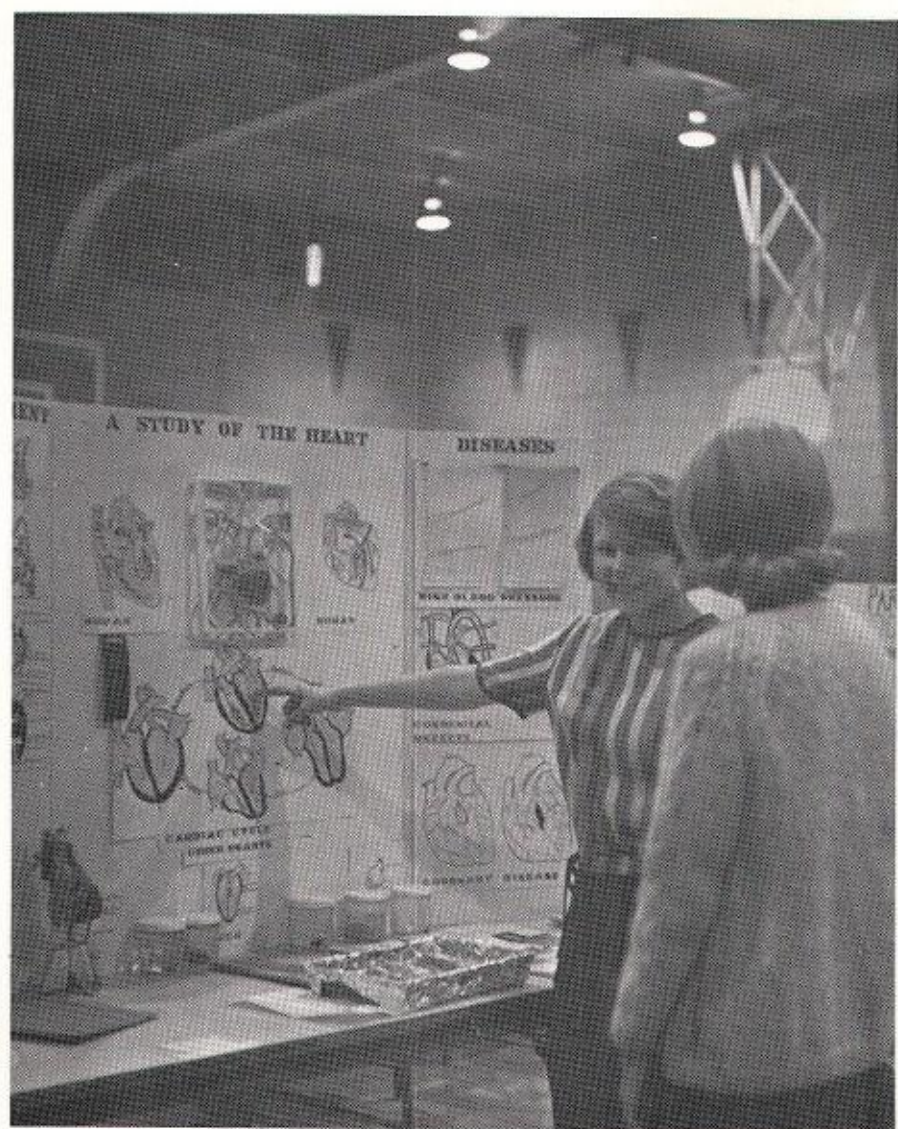

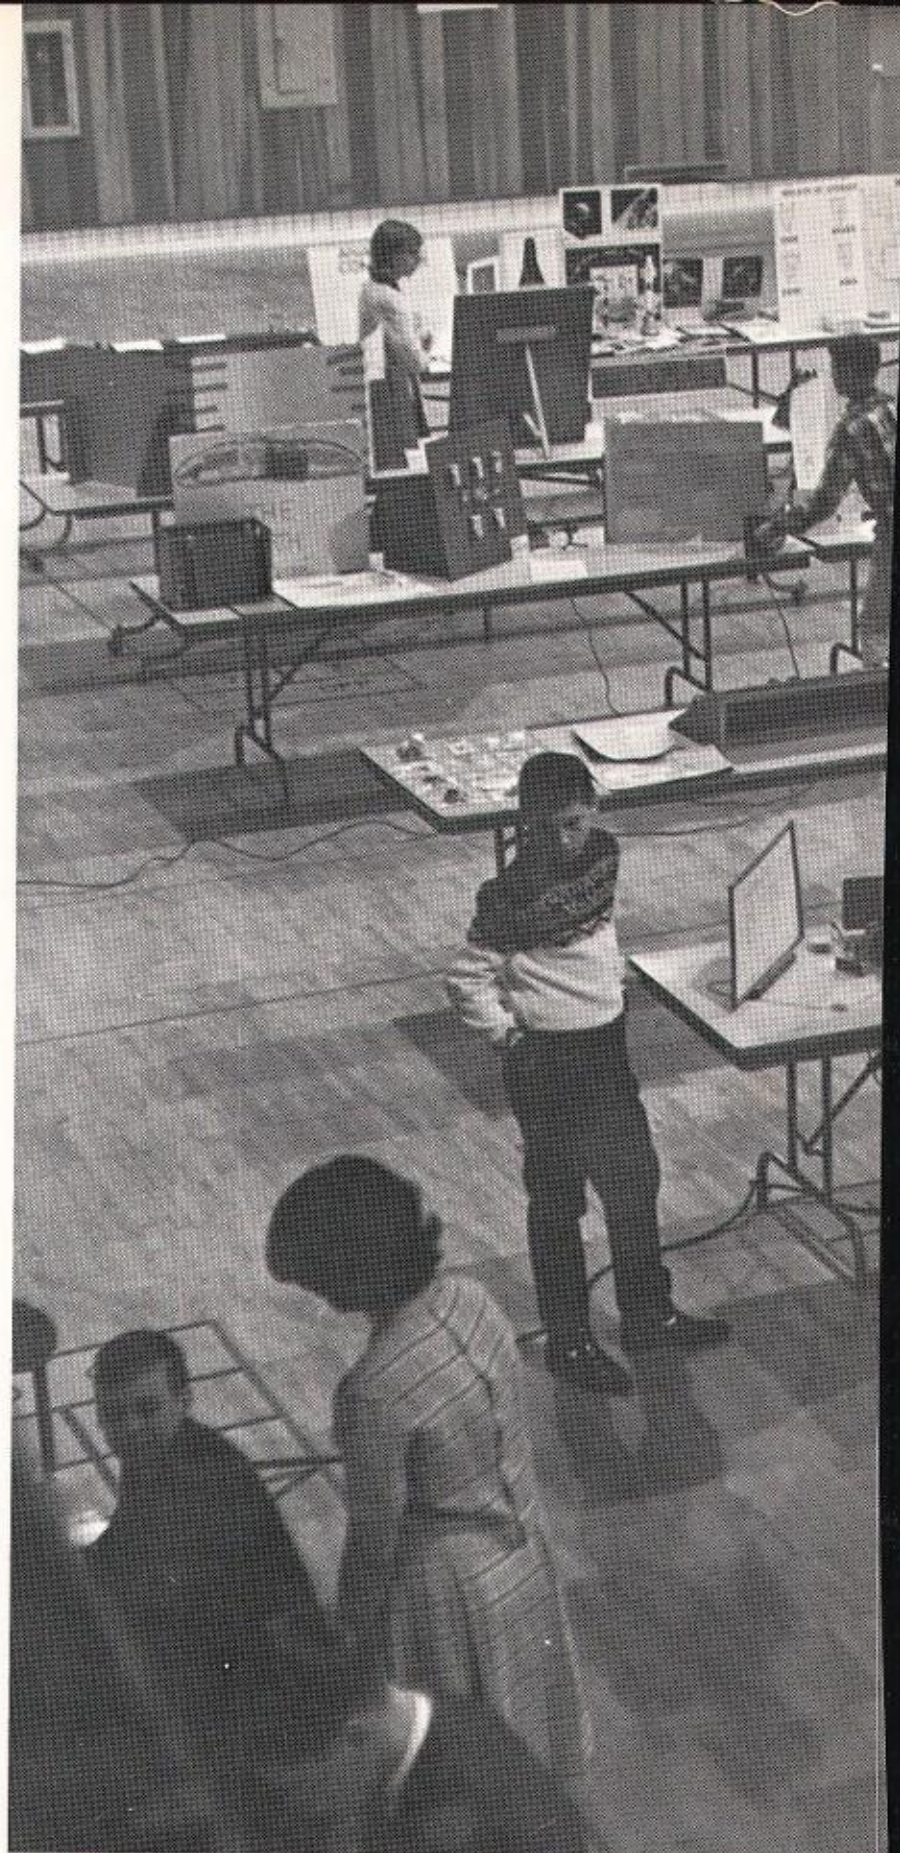

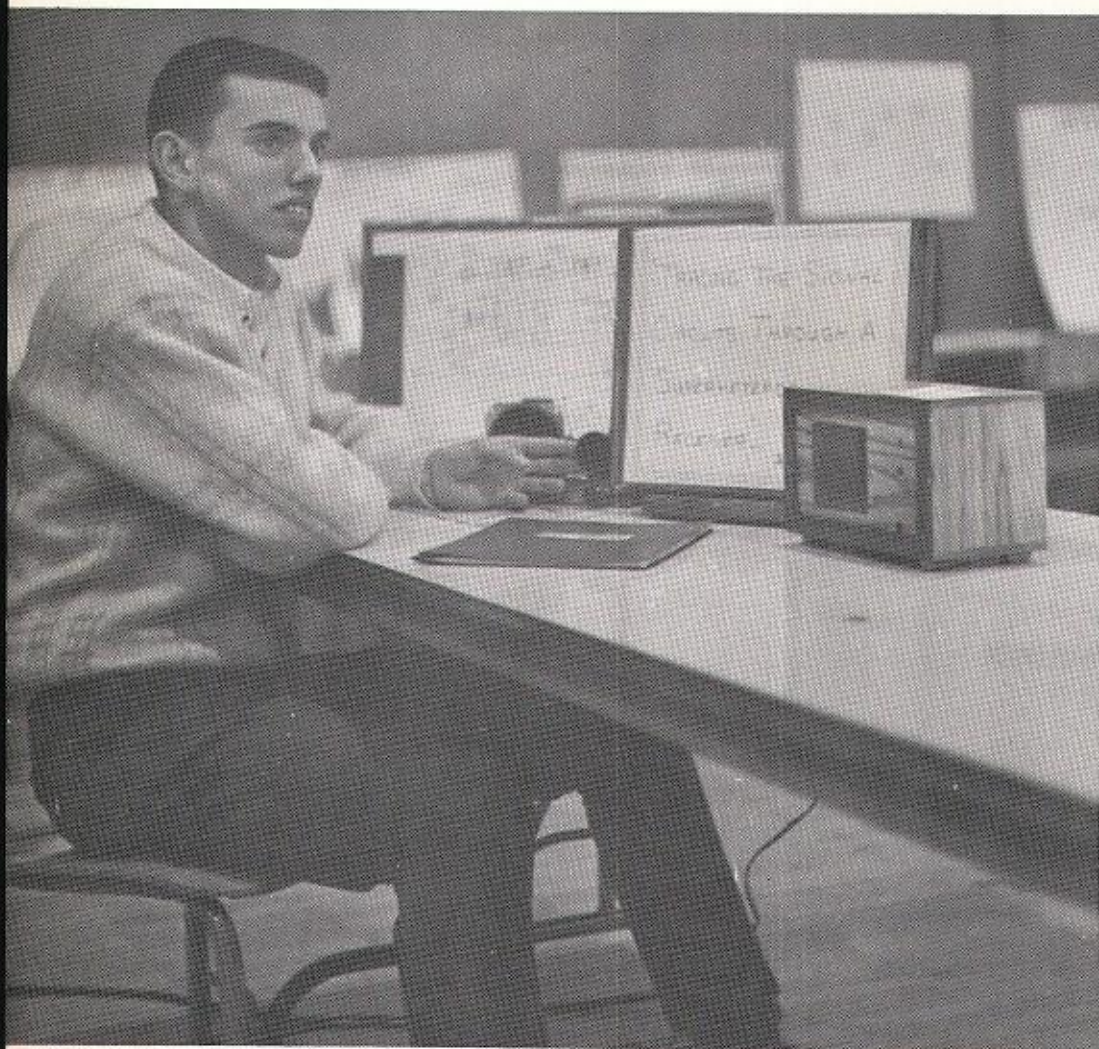

Previously inducted members Bill Kantosky, David Tharp, Karen Beiner, Sharon Beiner, and Barbara Rowe served in the initiation ceremony. The five students were taken into the honor group as juniors last year.

Membership is limited to ten percent of the senior class and four percent of the junior class. Only those upperclassmen exhibiting outstanding scholarship, service, leadership, and character may be elected to the Midview chapter. The records of candidates eligible for membership are reviewed for achievements in these four areas by a faculty committee.

Following the induction ceremony the new and old members of the Honor Society, their parents, and faculty members attended a reception honoring the new members.

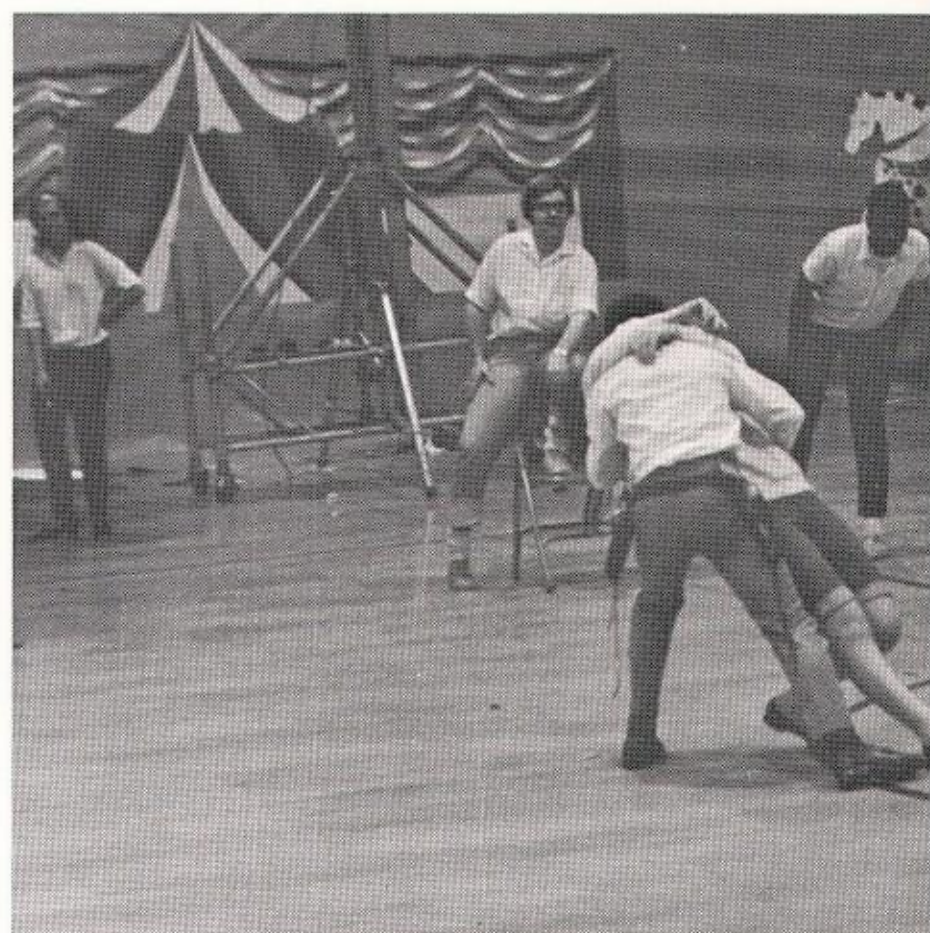

ACHIEVEMENT EXHIBIT

COMBINES DISPLAYS

At the Midview Achievement Exhibition March 18-19, an innovation this year which encompassed exhibits from various school departments, four students won top science honors and a one-day all expense paid tour through the General Motors Technical Laboratories in Warren, Michigan.

The four were freshman Joan Dusky for her project on the circulatory system, sophomore Wayne Goodman for his rock collection, junior Barb Hopkins for her blood-typing project, and senior John Rainey for his personally constructed radio.

Other departments which displayed student projects in the exhibition were wood shop, metal shop, mechanical drawing, home economics, vocational agriculture, and a few academic areas such as history and English. Only the science portion of the show was judged.

DRAMATISTS GO TO STATE, PERFORM WORLD PREMIERE

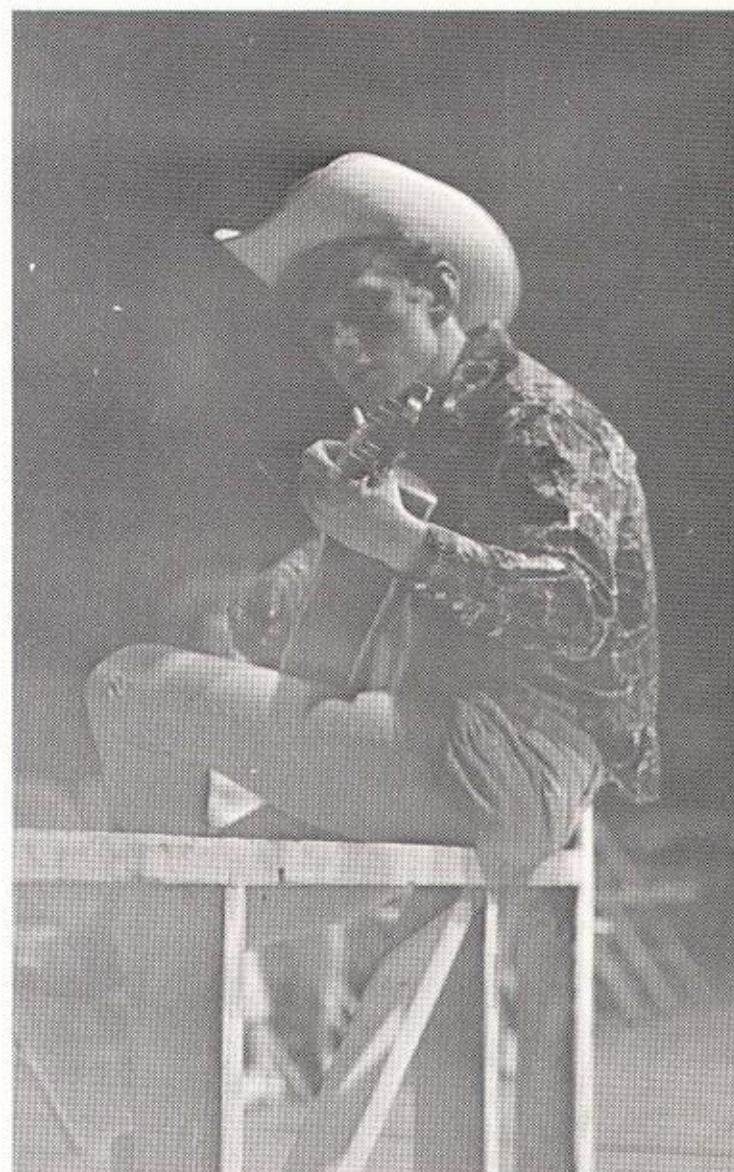

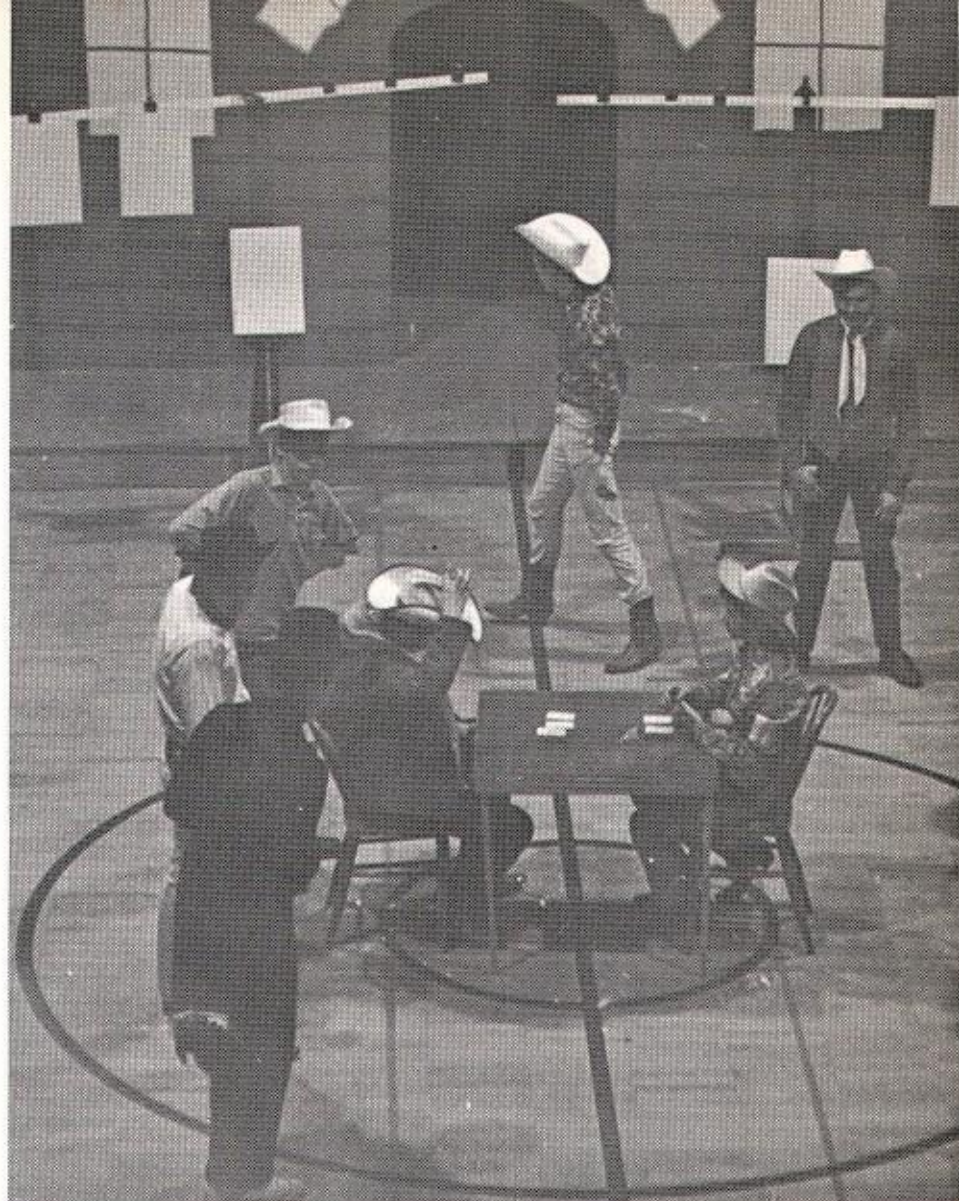

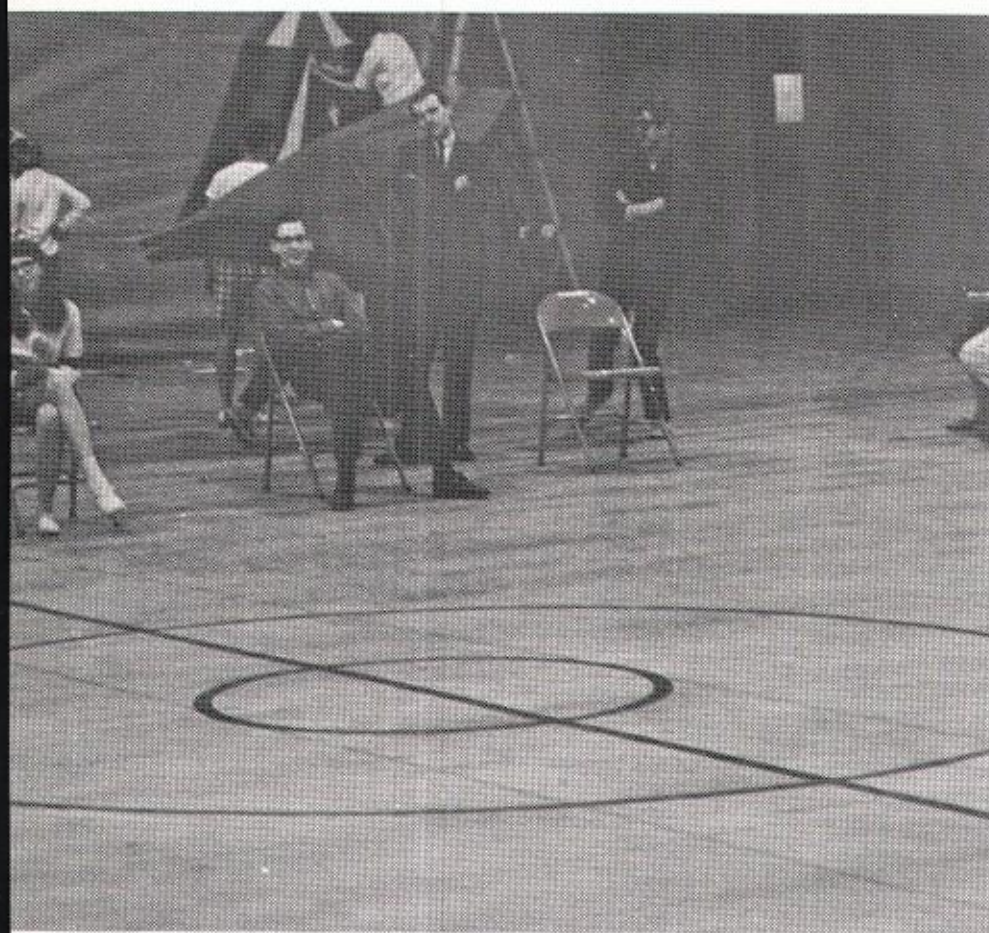

In a special evening performance, the drama department presented "The Death and Life of Sneaky Fitch" as its final production of the year. Midview's presentation was a world premiere.

Under the direction of Miss Beverley L. Glemser, "Sneaky Fitch" was originally scheduled for only a student showing during the afternoon of May but was given a second time that evening for the general public.

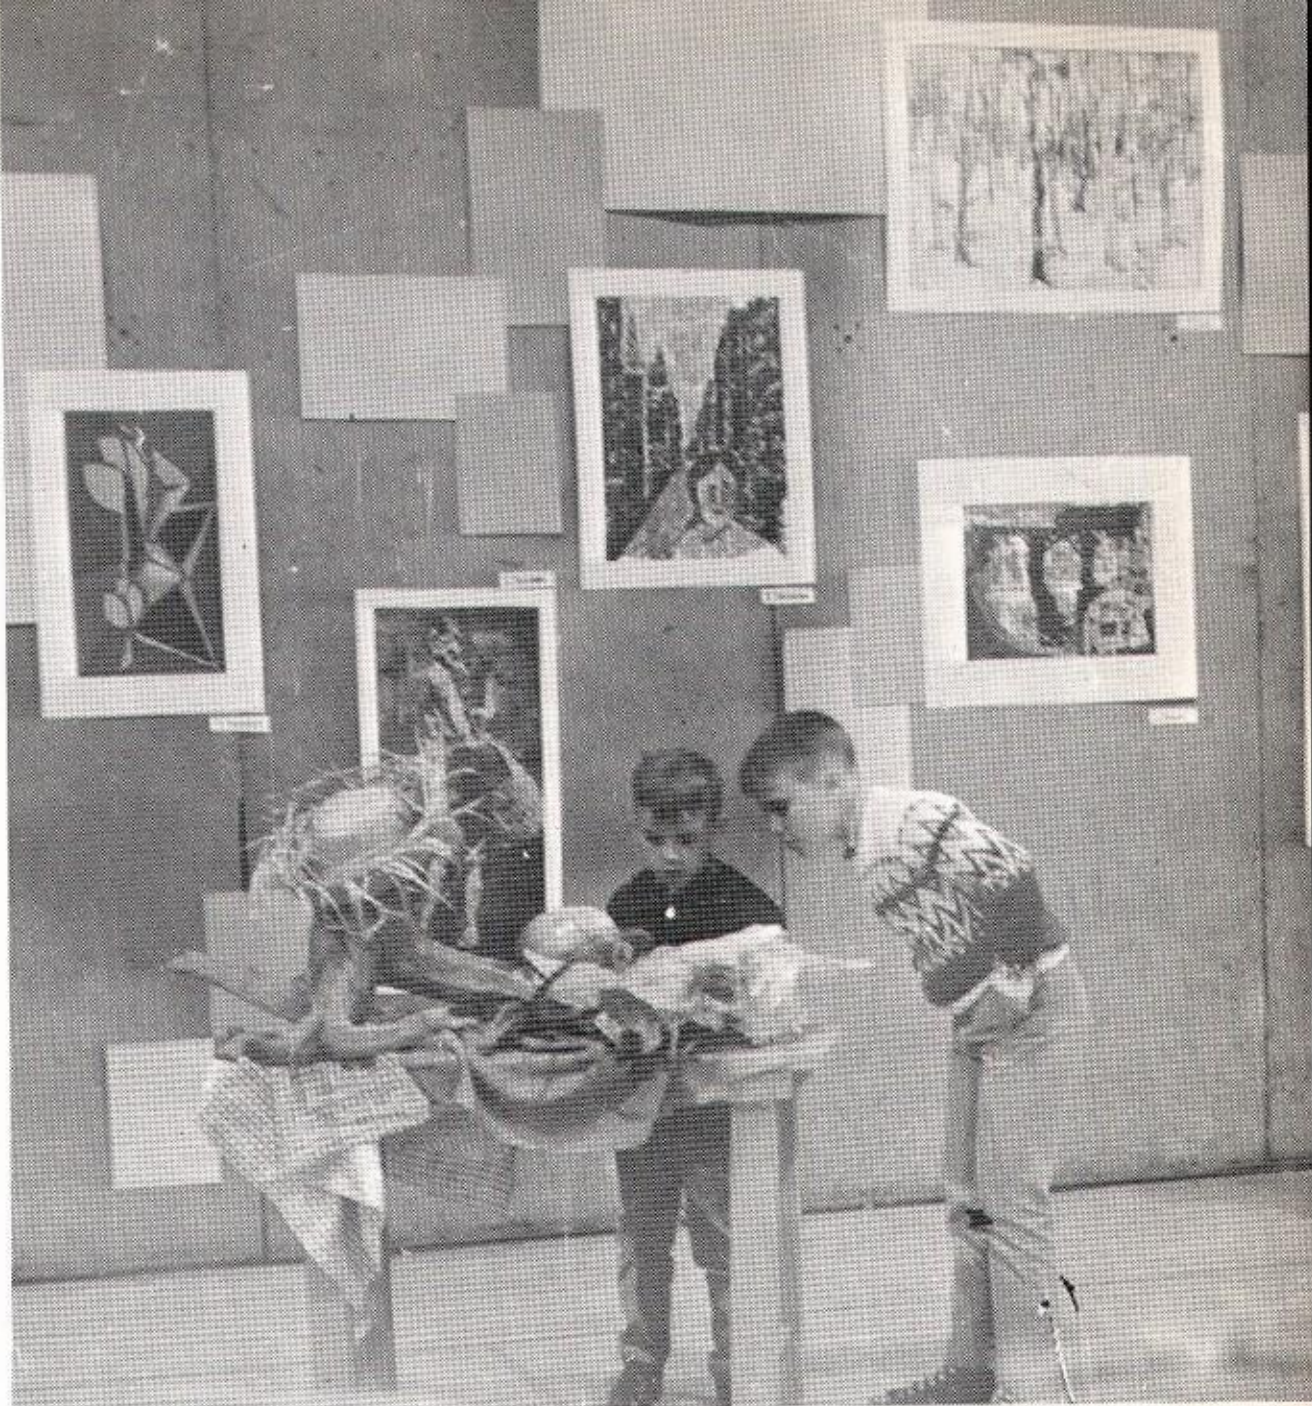

The farcical tragedy was written by James L. Rosenberg and is set in a mythical town of the old west.

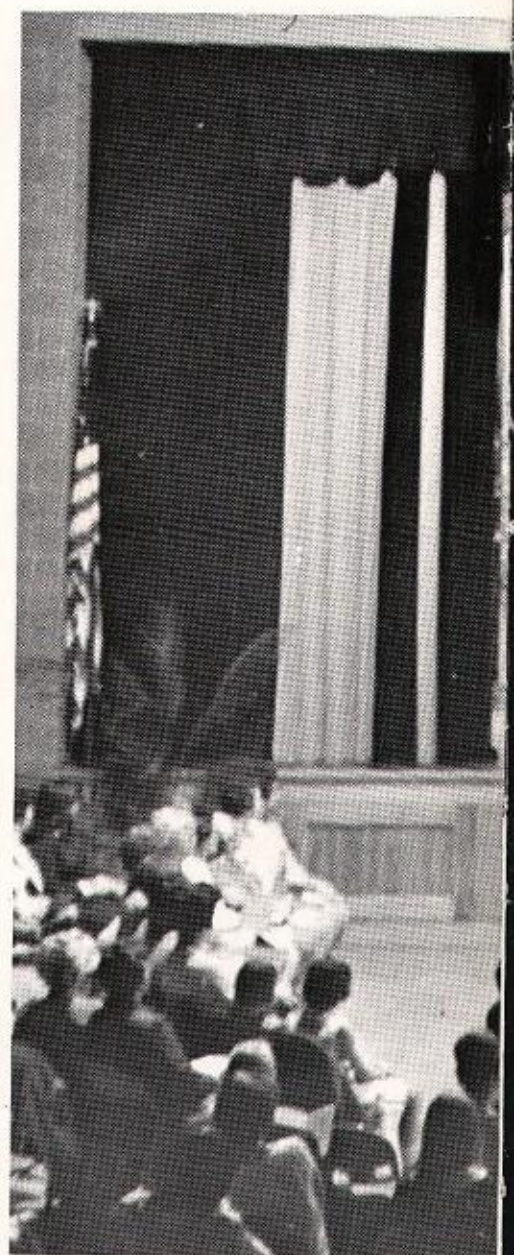

"Sneaky Fitch" was produced on the gymnasium floor in "thrust style" with the audience seated on three sides of the performers instead of in front of a proscenium stage.

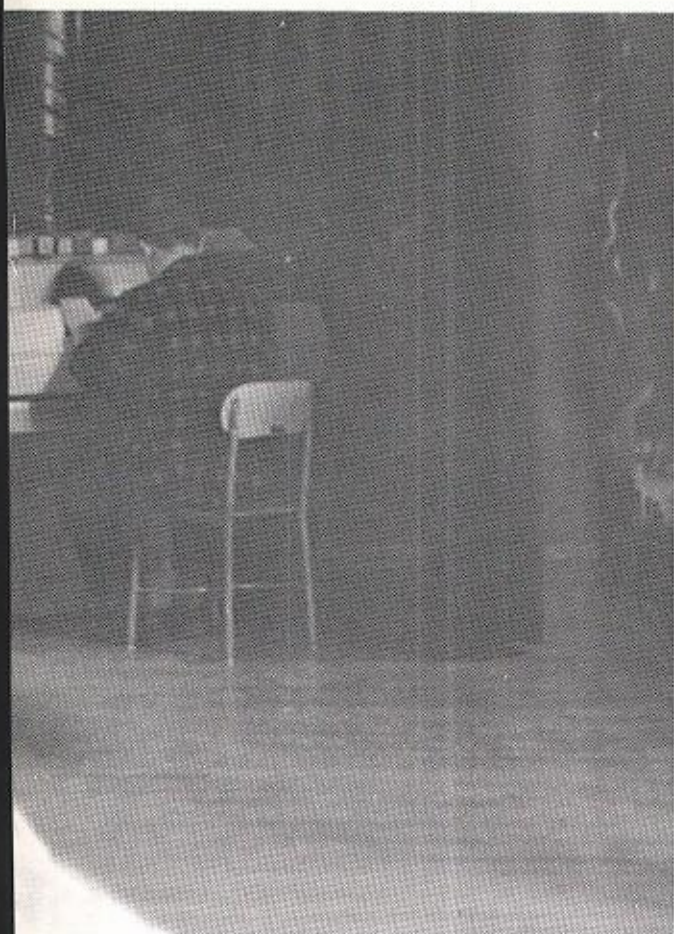

The drama department also presented a bill of one-act plays in the spring, qualifying one for state finals in Columbus. "Passion, Poison, and Petrification" by George Bernard Shaw was rated as "good" in state competition. Directing was Miss Glemser and Debbie Blackburn, student director.

DIAMOND CREW PITCHES, HITS WAY TO NEAR TITLE

After leading the Lakeland Conference all season, Midview's baseball team lost its last two contests of the year and ended up in second place behind league champion Wellington.

Coach Jim Sears led the Middie diamondmen to an 8-2 record in league play and an overall 10-6 slate. Two of the six losses were "prestige" defeats to Buckeye Conference member, Elyria.

Along with hustle, a contributing factor in the team's success was the brilliant pitching of sophomore Larry Shiflet. Shiflet had a 4-1 record and struck out 54 batters.

He turned in a no-hitter against Amherst, fanning 13 Comets. In his next outing against Wellington, he had to settle for a one-hit performance and 12 strike outs.

Gary Beckett, senior moundsman, gave Shiflet good backing with a 3-2 season.

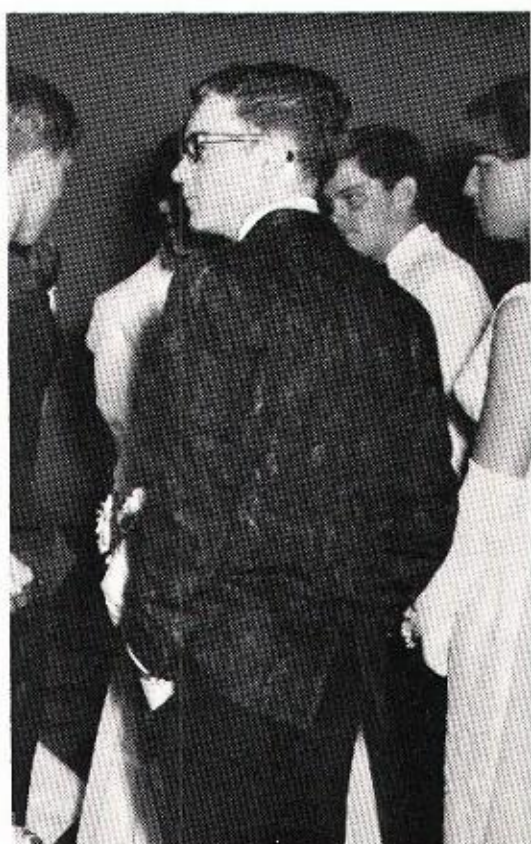

In the hitting department, Seres received good stick work from seniors Dave Tharp and Don Gustovich and junior Art Fedak.

Gene Cavalier assisted Seres with the coaching chores of the 7 seniors, 4 juniors, 4 sophomores and 4 freshmen who made up the team.
